Allowable Subject Matter

1. This action is in response to the amendment filed on June 10, 2004. Claims 1-25 are pending. Claims 1, 10-11, 12 and 17 have been amended. All the pending claims are allowed.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The closest prior art of Downs et al. (U. S. Patent 6,574,609) teaches managing digital content data and associated metadata. The content data is transferred to a content host, the metadata and usage condition data for the associated content are transferred to an electronic store.

In regarding to independent claims 1, 10 and 17, Downs taken either individually or in combination with other prior art of record fails to teach or suggest generating a label having usage rights associated with content of a digital work before the content is created, electronically generating a license based on the label before the content is created, issuing the license to a consumer before the content is created, the license entitling the consumer to access the content after the content is created, and associating the label with the content after the content is created.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

The article titled "Reciprocal and Advanced Marketing Services, Inc. Enter Into an Agreement to Create a Secure Virtual Wholesaler for Digital Content" (PR Newswire, November 6, 2000) discloses Reciprocal Inc., the global leader in digital rights management and digital commerce services, and Advanced Marketing Services (AMS), a leading global provider of customized services to book retailers and publishers, announced an agreement which will permit AMS to mass market and securely distribute eBooks from retail web sites.
